Art Unit: 3744

1. The claims are generally narrative and indefinite, failing to conform with current U.S. practice. They appear to be a literal translation into English from a foreign document and are replete with grammatical and idiomatic errors.

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claim 1 is vague and indefinite in lines 3-4 in reciting that the container is provided at the door enabling to be inserted into or withdrawn from the door by being slid when the door is closed. Firstly, it is not understood what is meant by the container being provided "at the door". Secondly, it is not understood what is meant by the container being "inserted into or withdrawn from the door by being slid". As understood from the drawings and specification, the container remains fixed and does not slide. Rather, the connection between the container and the crusher housing 131 is made by sliding the crusher housing 131 into the container as the door is closed.

4. In claim 1, line 4, the numeral "100" needs to be deleted.

5. In the specification, page 11, paragraph 0038, the phrase "In this case, the ice tray 11" needs to be deleted.

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
